Great Reduction Sale of Women's Garments

Sale Begins To-Morrow Morning With Prices Cut One Half and More Than Half on Desirable Wear Things for Women

A sweeping Midwinter Reduction Sale in the Women's Garment Section is inaugurated to-morrow (Monday) morning. This event, coming as it does right in midwinter, will be more than welcomed by shoppers. The enviable prestige of this section for its high quality garments—garments you can depend upon for style and wear—will be an extra incentive to take advantage of the low sale prices.

A heavy season of sales—and by that we mean the largest business in our history—leaves us with many garments—one and two of a kind. The larger the business, the larger this sale.

We have cut the price of these odd garments, cut them deep, for a quick clearance. It is our rule—the lowest of sale prices make the quickest sales at clearance.

The low prices will not permit us to send anything on approval, C. O. D. or make exchanges.

Death Separates Aged Couple

Livingston, Va., January 8.—Through the death of Jesse L. Wood, which occurred at his home in this county some weeks ago, perhaps the oldest couple residing in Nelson has been separated. Mr. Wood was eighty-eight years of age, and his widow, who is still active and in fairly good health, is eighty-seven. Mr. and Mrs. Wood were married over sixty years ago, and had probably lived together longer than any couple in Nelson since the Civil War. As long as the widow survives, there will be four living generations of the family. The aggregate number of children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren descending from the couple is in the neighborhood of seventy, a fact which clearly indicates that the race suicide theory has never gained a foothold in the family. In the picture shown above are Mr. and Mrs. Wood, together with two of their little grandchildren. The picture was taken shortly before Mr. Wood's death. The little boy standing beside his grandmother is the youngest grandchild, though there are many in the succeeding generation younger than he.

PETITIONS FOR "STATE-WIDE"

Bany Signatures Being Given to Paper in Fredericksburg.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Fredericksburg, Va., January 8.—Petitions are being circulated through this city for State-wide prohibition. The petitions request the State Anti-Saloon League at its annual convention this month in Richmond to instruct its legislative committee to prepare and present to the General Assembly a bill giving to the voters of Virginia the right to call an election on State-wide prohibition, and if further petitions the General Assembly to enact into law the bill presented by the legislative committee conferring upon the people the right to call a State election. The petitions are receiving many signatures.

News of the Churches

Unless otherwise noted, services conducted at the various churches at the usual hours, and by the regular pastors.

A number of the churches will have business meetings either this afternoon or this morning to hear reports on the financial condition of the congregations and to map out the aggressive work of the coming year. In many cases the sermons this morning will refer to the beginning of the work of a new year.

SHOOT WIFE FOR BURGLAR.

Farmer Injures Bride of Three Days. Not Knowing she is a Sonambulist.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Cape Charles, Va., January 8.—Mistaking her for a burglar while she was walking in her sleep, Jefferson Taylor, a farmer residing at Oak Hill, shot and seriously wounded his wife in their home. The ball entered the woman's hip, and has not been located.

Taylor was awakened from his slumbers by hearing noises in an adjoining room, and thinking burglars were at work, he seized his revolver from underneath his pillow and started to investigate. As he peered into the room from which the sounds emanated he discovered a figure in the darkness and opened fire. He was horrified when he recognized the voice of his wife exclaiming, "Jeff, you have shot me." Mr. and Mrs. Taylor had been married but three days.
